For almost two decades, Heather Sorenson has been an established musician in the church music industry. Electric in her musicianship, she easily maneuvers contemporary, traditional, and classical genres of music. Whether performing as a singer/song-writer artist, writing music for a symphony, or crafting choral compositions, Heather's music deeply moves audiences from the church sanctuary to Carnegie Hall. With hundreds of published compositions in piano, choral, and orchestral scores, she remains one of the most diverse musicians in the industry. Heather makes her home in the Dallas area with her beloved and very vocal beagle, Lucy.
